Product Description

One click electric packaging machine

This product is suitable for PET and PP material packaging belt, packaging belt width range between 13-16mm, thickness is adjustable within 0.4-1.2mm, can adapt to different sizes and materials packaging needs.

In terms of performance, the one-button electric baler has a powerful tension adjustment function, and the large tension can be freely adjusted between 400-3500N to ensure that the packaging effect is firm and reliable. It is easy to handle both light and heavy goods.

The machine adopts 5000mAh large-capacity battery, the charging time only takes about 90 minutes, and 550 packaging belts can be continuously packed after full charge, which greatly improves the work efficiency. Stable performance output is guaranteed even in high-intensity working environments.

In terms of welding, the one-button electric baler performs well. The welding time is only 2-5 seconds, and the welding overflow effect is excellent, ensuring the tight connection of the packaging belt, which is not easy to loose, and improving the firmness and safety of the packaging.

In terms of operation interface, the machine adopts liquid crystal display screen design, the interface is simple and intuitive. The display screen is equipped with a number of tape display area, operation mode selection area, normal/flexible selection area, battery power display area, tensioning gear selection area and welding time adjustment area, users can flexibly set according to actual needs, and the operation is more convenient.

In addition, the one-button electric baler has a wide range of uses, suitable for brick factories, aluminum, steel, cotton mills, logistics and other fields. Its efficient and reliable packaging effect has won the trust and praise of many users.

To sum up, the one-click electric baler has become a highly respected packaging tool for its excellent
