Product Description

Handheld electric storage baler

Handheld power storage baler, a portable and efficient tool designed for modern industrial packaging operations, with its excellent performance, wide applicability and convenient operation mode, has shown excellent application value in many fields such as aluminum, steel, cotton spinning, building materials and logistics.

The handheld power storage baler adopts an advanced CNC display design, which can display the working status of the machine, packaging parameters and battery power in real time, so that users can intuitively understand the packaging progress and achieve accurate control. At the same time, the machine has a large capacity of 4,000 mah battery, which can be quickly charged in about 60 minutes, ensuring long-term continuous operation.

The baler can easily handle a wide range of tape sizes, including PET and PP, with a width of 16 to 19 mm and a thickness of 0.5 to 1.0 mm, perfectly suited to the packaging needs of different industries and application scenarios. Its powerful strapping force of up to 4000 Newtons can be freely adjusted between 600 and 4000 Newtons according to actual needs, ensuring the firmness and stability of the packaging, even heavy cargo can be easily handled.

In order to enhance the user experience, we also provide a wealth of accessories and services. With the purchase of the handheld storage baler, users will get a detailed manual to help users quickly familiarize themselves with the operation and functions of the machine. In addition, we also kindly included the kit and spare batteries to ensure that users can quickly solve problems when they encounter, to ensure continuity and efficiency of work.

With its excellent performance, flexible application and convenient operation experience, the handheld electric storage baler has become the ideal choice for many industry users. Whether it is on the production line that requires efficient packaging, or in the logistics transportation that needs to ensure the safety of goods, it can meet the needs of users with stable and reliable performance, helping enterprises to improve operational efficiency and reduce operating costs.
