Product Description

AIR SPRAY GUNS

In terms of performance

1. Excellent atomization effect: It can atomize the coating evenly, making the sprayed surface smoother and flatter, reducing defects such as sagging and orange peel, and improving the spraying quality.
2. Precise control: Equipped with fine - adjustment knobs, it can accurately adjust the coating flow rate, air pressure, and spray pattern, meeting different spraying requirements. It can handle both large - area spraying and detailed processing with ease.

In terms of structural design

1. Ergonomic design: The handle fits the shape of the human hand. It is not easy to get fatigued during long - term holding, providing a more comfortable operation and increasing work efficiency.
2. Top - mounted pot design: The coating pot is located above the spray gun. The coating flows down by gravity, ensuring a smooth supply of material, reducing coating residue, and facilitating the replacement of the coating.

In terms of material and durability

1. High - quality materials: Key components such as the gun body are made of high - quality metal materials, which are sturdy, durable, wear - resistant, and corrosion - resistant, extending the service life.
2. Easy maintenance: The structural design allows for easy disassembly and cleaning. It can quickly remove the residual coating inside, reducing the risk of clogging and maintaining the stable performance of the spray gun.
